

FRENCH BELIEF ON REPARATIONS CAUSES COMMENT

Poincare Says Ger- man Debt to Allies Already Fixed

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—(A. P.)—Interpretations placed by the French foreign office on Premier Poincare's remarks today at Nevers, shocked official Washington, somewhat, insofar as any purpose of France to prevent a full, complete and impartial inquiry by economic experts into the reparations question may be indicated.

Press reports of the foreign office view came as a surprise to officials here who had been under the impression the French premier had accepted the expert committee plan with only the reservation of all French rights under the treaty of Versailles and insistence that the committee function under the reparations commission.

To what extent the limitations upon scope of the committee's inquiry read by the French foreign office into the premier's speech according to press advices would influence American participation was not indicated. It was made very plain, however, that the United States would look upon any plan that did not provide for a full and free examination by the experts of Germany's capacity to make reparations payments as an "abortive" effect to solve the problem.

No Commitment

In making his original proposal and again in the recent correspondence with Lord Curzon, it was pointed out, Secretary Hughes fully recognized that no government would care to commit itself in advance to acceptance of whatever plan of settlement the experts brought forward. The American government has stressed at all times the necessity that the committee's work should be purely advisory and that its proposal based on a full study of the situation in Germany should stand or fall on their merits when presented to the governments for consideration.

It was indicated also that the United States does not share the view attributed to Premier Poincare in the foreign office summary as carried in press despatches that Germany's debt to the allies has been fixed for all time and cannot be changed.

Open Door.

Throughout the present negotiations administration spokesmen have insisted that with the German capitulation on passive resistance to French occupation in the Ruhr, a door was opened to a renewed effort to work out a sound financial plan for settlement of the whole question of reparations. Such a settlement was becoming increasingly necessary due to the fact that no reparations payments of any note were being received by the allies and in the American view none were likely to be received.

London Disappointed.

London, Nov. 1.—The news of the grave impression created at Washington by Premier Poincare's speeches reached London too late to find officials at the government departments tonight but it is certain to cause intense disappointment when it becomes generally known.

So many efforts have been made to induce the United States to come to the assistance of distressed Europe and so many hopes have been built upon even an attenuated conference under the reparation commission which was all the French government could sanction that, should Washington refuse to be a party to such a strictly circumscribed inquiry disappointment will be redoubled, since it is feared that failure of these negotiations will only serve to aggravate the already desperate situation.

One of the first effects of Washington's possible withdrawal, it is believed, is almost certain to be the fall of the German government, whose tenure of office is only held by a thread and it seems hardly likely that it can survive the realization that nothing is to be hoped for from the United States if that government remains aloof.

Whether the British government's refusal to recognize a Rhineland republic had anything to do with what is considered the extremely irreconcilable tone M. Poincare adopted in his speech today, is only a matter of speculation but Anglo-French relations are likely to be embittered by that refusal.

AMERICAN RELEASED BY MEXICAN BANDITS

Washington, Nov. 1.—Release of a man who gave his name as Frank E. Anderson, today at Mishawaka, Ind., may clear up the mysterious disappearance of Oscar Stinnett from his home near Kincaid in Christian county last November 10. Stinnett mysteriously disappeared after taking a load of produce to a nearby town. A message was received by Stinnett's father-in-law, John Meyer, at Carlinville today from Mishawaka which stated a man giving his name as Frank E. Anderson who died in that town declared before his death he was Meyer's son-in-law.

No details of the release were given the department which was informed however, that Newman was "safe and well" and was expected to arrive at Durango yesterday.

C. P. & ST. L. IS NOT TO BE SOLD ON NOVEMBER 8

Sale Not to be Made Until Court Passes on Case

PEORIA, Ill., Nov. 1.—The Chicago, Peoria & St. Louis railroad will not be sold November 8th, because of an order issued tonight by Justice Clyde E. Stone of the Illinois Supreme Court preventing the sale of the road until the court passes on the case.

The effect of the supersedeas is to stay all proceedings in the Sangamon county circuit court in connection with a decree of foreclosure against the railroad until the case is passed on by the supreme court.

Assistant Attorneys General George C. Diamond and James B. Seary came here yesterday afternoon from Springfield to obtain the supersedeas. Attorney General Edward J. Brundage on behalf of the people filed a writ of error yesterday in the supreme court to review the decree of foreclosure of the Sangamon county circuit court against the railroad.

The petition of the attorney general asks further that the supreme court review the order of the Sangamon county circuit court refusing to permit him to file a petition on behalf of the people of the state to modify the decree so far as it relates to the sale of railroad properties in parcels.

The fight to prevent the sale of the railroad has been carried on by a citizens' committee headed by Henry M. Pindell.

TWO OLD AMERICAN FAMILIES ARE UNITED BY WEDDING BELLS

William H. Vanderbilt Mar- ried to Miss Emily Davies

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—Wedding bells pealed from historic Grace Church today to announce the union of two old American families thru the marriage of William H. Vanderbilt, fifth generation descendant of Commodore Cornelius Vanderbilt, and Miss Emily O'Neill Davies, daughter of Mrs. Frederick Martin Davies.

The bride was escorted from the altar by her grandfather Eugene O'Neill of Pittsburgh, in the presence of her mother, her brother, Frederick, and a dozen members of the house of Vanderbilt, including Lady Cheylesmore of England.

Robert S. Clarke, of Westerly, R. I., was best man.

Vanderbilt is the son of Mrs. Paul Fitzsimmons of this city and Newport, and the late Alfred G. Vanderbilt, who perished with the Lusitania. He inherited $5,000,000 and a Newport estate when he became of age last year.

Today's ceremony completed a romance which began when Mr. Vanderbilt and Miss Davies were children. The heads of their families were close friends and it was said that the death of Mr. Davies, days after the Lusitania went down was brought on largely by grief over the loss of his friend in the sea disaster.

METHOD IN POLITICS PRESSURE, NOT PULL

DECATUR, Ill., Nov. 1.—(A. P.)—Declaring that woman's method in politics was pressure, not pull, Mrs. Maude Wood Park, of Washington, president of the National League of Women Voters, outlined the aims of woman in legislation today and explained the work of the league to the National Council of Women in its convention here tonight, to act as a clearing house for the activities of the member bodies much as the National Council of Women does for the various groups represented in its roster.

The charter organizations of the new council follow:

- National Women's Relief Corps; National American War Mothers; Sons of Veterans Auxiliary; National Auxiliary United Spanish War Veterans; National Alliance Daughters of Veterans; Service Star Legion; The American Legion Auxiliary.

Mrs. Park who said her organization is often called "the most powerful lobby in Washington," explained that pull is a method of obtaining legislation without effort while pressure is a method of obtaining legislation with influence, but thru a tremendous expenditure of energy. She added that pressure indicated a widespread demand.

Cornerstone is Laid for Washington Memorial

ALEXANDRIA, Va., Nov. 1.—With solemn ritual, in the presence of the nation's highest officials and one of the largest gatherings of Blue Lodge Masons in history, the corner stone was laid today of the lofty national memorial which will be erected by the Free Masons of America to their revered craftsman George Washington.

When completed the structure will be one of the largest monuments ever erected in honor of an individual.

Standing on the crest of Shooters Hill, the massive granite pile will rise 200 feet above the stone set in place today to command a perpetual view of the vast estate once owned by Washington, the capital of the republic he helped make possible and the quaint old town of Alexandria where he presided over Masonic meetings. Not far away lies Mount Vernon where he spent much of his life and died.

President Coolidge the not a member of the fraternity silently spread the first mortar with the trowel his illustrious predecessor used in laying the corner stone of the first national capitol and the first Masonic Temple erected here.

Chief Justice Taft followed him using the same relic which was put away to be guarded until about five years hence, its final resting place is ready in the shrine that was consecrated to day.

After the president and the chief justice had performed their acts of homage, Charles H. Callahan, deputy grand master of Virginia, and the grand masters of every jurisdiction in the United States or their emissaries with

SPEECH MADE BY PREMIER AIMED FOR HOME FOLKS

Radicals are Jubilant Over Statements Made at Nevers

PARIS, Nov. 1.—(A. P.)—Premier Poincare's Nevers speech is regarded in political circles here as more for home consumption than as a reply to the Washington and London suggestions regarding a conference of experts to consider Germany's capacity for the payment of reparations.

The premier's speech is considered to be the first gun in the electoral campaign of 1924.

It is pointed out that for the first time in a long series of speech making, inaugurated early in the summer the premier spoke in a radical Socialist department before an assembly presided over by a deputy from the left group, he having heretofore restricted his activities to solid Nationalist centers in the Marne and the Meuse and other war torn departments.

The radicals are jubilant over the tone and spirit of the premier's address, especially his closing words, "we covet no territory; we represent the liberty of peoples; we desire to retain with our allies the most amicable relations. We ask nothing better than to resume with Germany the intercourse of good neighbors."

This is the whole program of the left groups, the radicals point out and they express the hope that the premier would persevere in his good desires.

AMERICANS SECURE PATENTS AND RIGHTS FOR ZEP PRODUCTION

Akron to Be World Center
for Lighter Than Air Craft

AKRON, O., Nov. 1.—(A. P.)—All patents and rights to manufacture Zeppelin dirigibles have been purchased by the Goodyear Tire and Rubber company, it was officially announced by this company tonight. The deal includes the right of manufacture on all engines, machinery and auxiliaries of this type of dirigible.

The purchase price was not announced but it was declared to be one of the highest in the history of international aviation.

The giant air liners will be manufactured at the Wingfoot Lake Aviation Field near here, and at the Goodyear Factories in this city, making Akron the center of the world's lighter-than-air craft manufacture.

Plans completed by the German aerial navigators for the establishment of a 21-2 day trans-Atlantic air service will be organized as soon as the manufacture of the great air liners get under way here it was stated.

Surveys also have been made for the establishment of a 24-hour New York to Chicago air service.

Negotiations for the purchase have been underway for sometime, Goodyear officers said.

They will be laid before the authorities at Washington in a few days after which the details will be made public.

Information gathered here from various sources indicate that a corps of experienced Zeppelin designers and builders will be brought here from the plants at Friedrichshaven, where the first Zeppelin was built about 25 years ago. These plants have been virtually inactive since the armistice was signed only the manufacture of a limited number of aircraft for other governments without authority of law; misrepresentation of campaign expenses, abuse of pardon and parole power; collection of funds for his personal use, unlawful issuance of a deficiency certificate for a negro orphans home and general incompetency.

The French government is perfectly willing to reopen the subject of reparations, provided everybody will agree beforehand not to change anything.

Politics, according to the quaint notion of former generations, was "the art of government." Nowadays it's the art of getting elected.

ALCOHOLISM IN
THEATRES

A recent Weekly Bulletin of the New York City health department contains some interesting figures with a bearing on prohibition as it is in its present state of imperfect enforcement.

Between the years 1917 and 1922 the city increased 7.5 per cent in population. In the same period the ratio to population of alcoholic patients treated in hospitals decreased 30 per cent. The financial saving amounted to $41,775 in 1922.

That is not the whole story. The ratio of drug addicts to population has also decreased, contrary to popular belief. This ratio dropped 38 per cent from 1917 to 1922.

Another fact which cannot be positively attributed to prohibition, but which is particularly interesting in that connection, is the decrease in the number of all admissions to hospitals, which is said to be 24 per cent from 1917 to 1922.

All of these figures are compiled from hospitals of the Department of Public Welfare alone. They represent a saving in upkeep of a general hospital of $16 beds—which would meet the usual needs of a population of 63,000.

Prohibition is not a failure yet.

CHILDREN'S CHANCE FOR LIFE

What is the safest city in America for a baby to be born in? That is, in what city will it have the best chance for life? According to a report of the American Child Health Association for last year, if only the 25 largest cities in the country are considered, it is Seattle. The infant mortality rate there—the yearly number of deaths under one year, for every thousand births—was only 49.

The northwest in general shares this proud distinction.

Minneapolis and Portland were not far behind, with a mortality rate of 53 and 56 respectively. San Francisco was a close fourth.

Western states show the best average for cities of over 10,000 population, in the following order of distinction: Oregon, Washington, Minnesota, California, and Nebraska.

All this is matter for local pride, and for envy in less fortunate places. More important, however, than any question of sentiment is the question of cause. It would be worth a great deal of inquiry to find out exactly why babies have a better chance in cities and states mentioned than they have elsewhere.

Some of it, no doubt, is climate, but that cannot be all. Much must have been done by human agencies which other communities could emulate, whatever their climatic or geographic situation.

YOUR OWN BOSS

NEA

The Armour meat packing company tells its 60,000 employees they can become silent partners in the business by buying preferred stock. This stock will be sold to employees on the installment plan. It will pay guaranteed dividends of 7 per cent.

Only a few years since the Armour firm was practically "closed corporation." That is to say, the Armour family owned most of it and controlled all of it.

Observe a straw showing which way the wind's blowing.

There's really nothing unusual about the Armour method of letting employees buy an interest in the business. Many businesses already have the same system in operation. It's the ideal way to save. The method usually is for the employee to subscribe to pay so much a week, then that amount is regularly taken from his pay envelope.

The employee with stock in the business is more loyal and works harder. That's the theory, at any rate, and it averages true. So it's a definite part of the "efficiency" movement.

You never can tell where such a thing, once started, will lead. Take a business employing 100,000 men. If each of them invested $1000, there's a fund of 100 million dollars. Quite a fund, that.

With the day come when employees, by their savings, will buy a controlling interest, then gradually take over the businesses that employ them? An interesting prospect, decidedly a possibility.

Boy Scout Committee Presented
All Time Scout Master Plan—
Report Made on Decatur Trip.

Chamber of Commerce directors held a meeting Thursday night with Vice President John W. Merigan presiding, when various subjects relating both to the welfare of the organization and of the city were discussed.

Secretary Welch told of the coming of Fred High, who will be here for a number of days to familiarize himself with the facts about Jacksonville institutions and business enterprises as the basis for news stories in a number of well known publications. It is the expectation that Jacksonville will receive in this way a great deal of valuable publicity.

T. A. Chapman of the industrial committee made an informal report of the recent trip to Decatur where the local men went for the purpose of finding out something about Decatur's plan for attracting new industries. It was found that Decatur does not offer bonds but helps in the securing of sites and buildings, usually with a repayment provision.

A committee was present to ask the support of the Chamber of Commerce for the plan to secure an all time Boy Scout master for the city. The committee included B. F. Shafer, G. E. Stickney, J. S. Hackett, Dr. W. P. Duncan, W. F. Henley and Mr. Penrod, who is associated with the Boy Scout work in Springfield.

Judge W. E. Thomson brought the attention of the directors to conditions at Big Sandy mine south of the city and came after a somewhat protracted period of ill health.

Secretary Welch gave some details of the plans of the forum committee for meetings to be held in November and December. Other matters discussed related to Chamber of Commerce business.

H. M. S. as a Sending Station and broadcasting to all the world and that there are 450,000 places where they are listening in to receive the message of the broadcasting station. She spoke also the quotation of President Eliot who said, "The business of the modern woman is to bear children and to prepare them for the world, and that she liked to add to that," and help to prepare the world for her children. She spoke also of Love being the code used by the W. H. M. S. Station, and the wonderful accomplishments of the society with that code. She stated that the society had done a business of which any corporation might be proud, in dollars and cents of $3,212,524.45. That $258,317.00 has been spent for supplies alone.

At the close of the afternoon program a bountiful banquet was served in the basement of the church. Mrs. Rawlings and family furnished music. The subject matter of the evening program was "The Home Missionary Woman."

STATE MUSEUM NOW IN ITS FIRST HOME

Institution Has Gained National Prominence During Existence
—Collections Grow in Size and Value.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—(By The
A. P.)—After an existence of 72 years the Illinois State Museum is now housed for the first time, according to Prof. A. R.
Crook, curator, "in a manner appropriate to the wealth of its collections and to the great natural resources of the state."

The institution, Prof. Cook said, has gained national prominence during its 72 years of existence; its collections have grown in size, variety, and value
and are, in every way, worthy of the spacious quarters now occupied. The museum has the entire top floor of the new Illinois
Centennial building.

Animal life in myriad forms,
illustrated by specimens of great variety and beauty, illustrations of mineral resources, rocks, and general geology of the state form part of the exhibits. The appearance of life and its slow development as recorded in the rocks
is exemplified by lowly forms
such as foraminifera and radiolarians, sponges and corals. Unfolding life in its evolutionary complexity is portrayed by mollusks, insects, worms, fish, amphibians, reptiles, birds and mammals.

"Illinois is a state greatly favored in abundance and variety of fish," Prof. Crook said. "The museum collection shows the chief varieties of the million dollars worth of fish taken out of the Illinois rivers last year.
Practically every species has been obtained and our aim is to add to this collection until every species is represented."

"The reptiles of Illinois, though neither impressive because of size or numbers, are interesting. Fourteen species of which only four are venomous, are shown. The birds of Illinois, have a more popular appeal
than many lower forms of life and every species found in the state is represented in the collection.

"Representations are also had
of the mammals of the state,
most of which are now practically exterminated. Individual specimens or picturesque groups form
the major part of this collection."
Mammal Hall, in the museum, contains six large groups of the large mammals which once

roamed the fields of Illinois.
Each group measures 25 feet in length, 12 feet in depth and 15 feet in height. They present a chapter in the life of the mountain lion, black and cinnamon bear, moose, elk and buffalo.

A scene in the life of the Sa-Fox Indians at Peoria, 100 years ago is depicted in one group presented to the institution by John W. Bunn of Springfield. A New York artist, Henri March-and is the author of the group.

TWO GROUPS UNQUELLED

Of the botanical groups two,
Prof. Crook said, are unequalled
by any exhibits of the kind in the United States. The first, the
John W. Bunn mycological group
representing 200 different kinds
of Central Illinois mushrooms,
shows the plant in natural surroundings. The second group
which is under construction,
donated by Edward W. Payne, of Springfield, Ill., will be entitled
"Illinois in May." May flowers
made in glass wax and celluloid
are in the foreground.

The museum combines artistic beauty with scientific facts, Prof. Crook continued. "It supplies information which would be difficult to obtain in any other manner. The institution is a dynamic educational force influencing the learned and the unlettered. People who read with difficulty readily comprehend much that is shown. Children as well as adults profit by visits here. About 100,000 people visit the museum each year and this number is expected to be increased."

All the exhibits have been placed in the new building although part of them have not yet been set up. The formal opening of the institution will probably take place in December
Prof. Crook said.

Prof. Crook has been curator of the museum since 1906 and in this period many additional rare and valuable specimens have been added.

With the additional space which has been given it by the state, Prof. Crook said he expected the museum to expand until it has become one of the greatest of its kind in the United States.

Mrs. Esther Fry was in the city from Carrollton yesterday.

SAYS "EXPERTS" IN PARIS ARE PART OF MUDDLE IN EUROPE

Johnson Thinks America
Has No Place In Reparations

OAKLAND, Calif., Nov. 1.— America will answer the an-gued cry of human suffering abroad," with contributions of money and food, but the name should stand solidly against participation in Europe's political affairs, United States Senator Hiram Johnson said today in an address on national and state policies, before a gathering of civic organizations.

Of the botanical groups two,
Prof. Crook said, are unequalled
by any exhibits of the kind in the United States. The first, the
John W. Bunn mycological group
representing 200 different kinds
of Central Illinois mushrooms,
shows the plant in natural surroundings. The second group
which is under construction,
donated by Edward W. Payne, of Springfield, Ill., will be entitled
"Illinois in May." May flowers
made in glass wax and celluloid
are in the foreground.

Reviewing the visit of David Lloyd George to this country, Senator Johnson said that London had awaited the "psychological moment" to make public the correspondence between Secretary of State Hughes and Lord Curzon, relative to America's participation in German reparations negotiations. He charged that the former British premier took advantage of a "forgotten speech" of our secretary of state, made a year ago at New Haven and gently flattered us by insinuating that thru our distinguished secretary we were the first to discover how to avert European chaos.

"Like you, I would welcome European stability," Senator Johnson said, "like you I prefer negotiations to force. But we have had a hotel full of experts in Paris who described as 'observers' have really been a part of the reparations muddle. Is it possible they do not know what Germany can pay? If they do not they ought to be recalled."

The affair was also in honor of the birthday of Mrs. Harman Hahn, and there were various features which made it a memorable occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Hahn were married in Winchester 40 years ago and have spent most of their wedded life in Jacksonville and vicinity. Their many friends unite in hoping that they may live to celebrate many more wedding anniversaries.

Alumni Dinner for Former Oberlin Students

A group of former Oberlin college students held an alumni dinner last evening at the Tea Tray. The crimson and gold college colors were used in table decorations. Oberlin songs were sung and reminiscences enjoyed.

Mrs. Perry C. Thompson acted as toastmistress. Prof. Isabel Smith of Illinois college, Misses Swanson and Miner of the Woman's college responded to toasts.

This was rather a notable dinner for on this day Oberlin men and women in every state in the union, 16,000 of them, sat down simultaneously at dinners, and alumni everywhere renewed their pledges of loyalty to their Alma Mater.

Oberlin College was founded 90 years ago. She was the first college to admit and grant degrees to women—in fact, was America's first co-educational college. Approximately one in every five of her former students have become teachers.

They had as their guests at Friday evening supper Gertrude Zeller and Pauline Frankenfeld.

"BARNEY GOOGLE" AND "SPARK PLUG" COMING

With the magic of a spectacular New York success as a cartoon stars upon it, "Barney Google and Spark Plug" will come to the Grand Theatre on Monday next when the Cartoon Amusement Company, Inc., will present their latest and greatest musical comedy success, in answer to a tremendous demand from all parts of the country that Broadway's favorite cartoon comedy should be put on tour.

William K. Wells, author of the book, is also author of George White's Scandals, Ted Lewis' Revue and the New Greenwich Village Follies, added even to his own reputation when "Barney Google" first appeared as a laugh maker and the Cartoon Amusement Co., who made fame with many New York successes as producers, secured this rollicking fun show. "Barney Google" is the merriest of tales, divulged into two acts of brilliant music and high pitched comedy. Billy Debeck, creator and originator of "Barney Google and Spark Plug," started the cartoon on a career it has never since abandoned, so Mr. Debeck is fairly entitled to his rank as America's first master of cartooning.

Among some of the numbers are melodies which will be whistled by everyone. Dances and ensembles are arranged by Dan Dody. A large chorus of good looking girls, originally and festively gowned, together with every accessory to insure a perfect presentation is assured.

Big reduction on all trimmed hats 1-3 off. Be sure to ask for Eagle Stamps.

SCORES BEHOLD BIG GAS WELL IN ACTION

Latest Well on Harris Farm Shows Enormous Pressure in Demonstration Thursday—Springfield Capitalists Present

Anyone within a mile or more of the Andrew Harris farm in the P. C. Irwin gas field yesterday afternoon between 2:30 and 3 o'clock might have thought a storm of giant proportions was gathering in a certain cornfield. A steady and vibrant roar that would have alarmed those who did not know the cause ascended from that field.

To the 150 or more persons gathered about the latest and biggest gas well on the Harris farm the reason for the roar was evident. It was the sound of escaping natural gas, thousands of feet of it rushing every minute with enormous velocity from the iron throat of the new well. Objects which were placed in the line of the rushing vapor were blown several feet into the air. When the drill was let down and began work on the last few feet to finish the well, water and mud from the bottom were thrown high into the air.

The well is a little over 340 feet deep and is located in a cornfield not far from the road running north along the Harris farm. It is about ten miles northeast of the city. It is estimated that this latest well will make 10,000,000 cubic feet of gas a day. It is now ready to have a pipe line run to it from somewhere, and here are three other good wells on the Harris farm that are ready for similar pipe lines.

The well was uncapped about 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon in the presence of a large number of persons from Springfield and Jacksonville. As the cap was removed, there was first a loud hissing, then a rumble and finally a roar that drowned every other sound. The drilling outfit is run by a steam engine, which does not burn coal or any other fuel.

To have any fire whatever in the vicinity of the big well would be extremely dangerous. That engine is operated by compressed gas, piped to it from a well one thousand feet to the north.

The gas is turned into the engine boiler, and as the pressure of the gas increases, the steam gauge may be seen to rise. It went to eighty pounds while bystanders watched with astonishment. Then when it was time to put the drill in operation, the engine was started and ran as smoothly and efficiently as the it were being operated by steam. The well from which the engine is run will, it is estimated, make 4,500,000 cubic feet of gas a day.

In the crowd that watched the demonstration of the powers of the big well were a number of prominent Springfield citizens, some of them well known capitalists. Certain Springfield interests have been watching the development of the gas field since last fall, and it is believed a strong effort will be made to take the gas to Springfield.

The big well is now to be left capped and cemented until its store of gas can be utilized. It was feared to drill any farther yesterday, as the drills were too light to withstand the enormous pressure, and might have been blown out of the well. The pressure will grow stronger as the well develops itself.

FAVORITE LODGE TO GIVE PROGRAM

Favorite Lodge 376, Knights of Pythias, will hold an open house meeting next Thursday evening, Nov. 8, at Castle Hall. The program will consist of musical numbers and a speech by Attorney W. N. Hairgrove, who will tell of his recent trip to Alaska. Plans for the open meeting were made last night at the regular meeting of the lodge.

Hugh Green, who is president of the tenth Pythian district in the state, announced last night that the district convention will be held here on Nov. 21. At this time every lodge in the district is expected to have representatives in attendance, and the Grand officers of the state will be present at the regular meeting of the lodge.

CHICAGO COMPANY TO BE BROUGHT TO CITY

F. H. Rowe Buys Control of American Bankers Insurance
Co., and Will Merge it With Cloverleaf.

F. H. Rowe, president of the Cloverleaf Life and Casualty Co., has purchased a controlling interest in the American Bankers Insurance Co., of Chicago, and it is planned to consolidate the two companies with offices in this city. The announcement was made yesterday upon the return of Mr. Rowe from Chicago where the deal above mentioned has been pending for several months.

F. H. Rowe, C. Y. Rowe, R. Y. Rowe, T. P. Thornton and C. A. Goodale were elected to the board of directors of the Chicago company and F. H. Rowe was chosen president. Mr. Goodale will assume the position of manager of the American Bankers' Insurance Co., and will have charge of its home office in Chicago. He will not move his family to that city, however, at least not for the present.

It is understood that Mr. Rowe secured control of the Chicago company by the purchase of 21,602 shares of stock at a cost of $230,000. When the two companies are finally consolidated and the entire business is transferred to the Cloverleaf offices here, it will mean $1,000,000 annually in additional premiums coming into Jacksonville. It will mean a large increase in the office force here, the labor to be recruited from this city. Work on the entire new plant, including the north section on Court street, is to be pushed rapidly in order to provide space for the increased business.

The property in which the Chicago company is located is a three story building at the corner of Cass and Ohio streets in the heart of the skyscraper district. By the widening of North Michigan boulevard, it will be made a strategic location, two blocks from the new Tribune building and two blocks from the Wrisley building. By the transfer, Mr. Rowe also secures control of this property, which may ultimately prove of great value, as it is the logical location for a skyscraper.

Mr. Rowe purchased the stock that gave him a controlling interest in the company from Nelson Moore of Chicago. The remaining shares in the company are scattered among 700 or more stock holders throughout the middle west.

The business of the American Bankers' Insurance Co., will not be transferred here at least for several months. The departments will probably be brought from Chicago gradually and the local office force correspondingly increased.

The Cloverleaf Life and Casualty Company by this new acquisition of Life business may now be classified as one of the big institutions of this section of the country in its department of legal, reserve life insurance as well as health and accident business. In 1920 the collection of health and accident premiums amounted to over a million dollars placing the Company in a position of leadership in this line. The eventual bringing of this business to Jacksonville will require a large addition to the Home Office staff of the Company in this city.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE IMPROVEMENTS

The Grand Opera House is undergoing some changes under the direction of the proprietor Thomas Scott, which will no doubt be beneficial to the business as well as to the convenience of the patrons. The entrance will be moved about thirty feet farther south and the former entrance will now be used as the entrance.

The patrons will be protected from disagreeable weather when entering and leaving the building by the new entrance which will be covered with a steel marquis that extends over the sidewalk and is about nine feet wide by 15 feet in length. Mr. Scott believes that the entrance when finished will be rendered more easily visible and accessible from the street.

I. S. D. TEAM WILL SEE BIG GAME

Pittsfield will soon become the possessor of a new candy and ice cream store which will be opened by Christos Geanatos, proprietor of the Jacksonville Ice Cream Company. The modern confectionery which he will open will be located in the Dickson building of that city.

GEORGE W. DAVIS DIED IN CALIFORNIA

End of Life for Well Known Resident and Former City Official Came Unexpectedly
Thursday—Remains Will be Brought Here for Interment

Many Jacksonville people heard yesterday with sincere regret of the death of George W. Davis, until recently on the Journal staff, at the home of his brother, near San Diego, Calif. Mr. Davis had been in failing health for a number of months and at a comparatively recent date accompanied by Mrs. Davis went to California with the hope that the climate of the coast state would be beneficial.

Mr. Davis had been identified with the public affairs in Jacksonville for a period of years prior to his long period of service with the Jacksonville Journal. In still earlier years he was on the staff of the Courier.

Mr. Davis was the son of the late George N. Davis, who was long resident here. He was born 53 years ago in Indiana and came as a lad to this city, which was ever afterward his home. After attending the public schools of Jacksonville Mr. Davis was a student at the academy and Illinois college.

Following a period of business experience he became the manager of the Grand Opera house and also for a period served as cashier of the house under Smith & Hayden, the lessees. At a still later time the deceased was elected city clerk of Jacksonville and continued to fill that office for a number of terms. He handled the affairs of the office in a very efficient way and became so well acquainted with city finances and other matters relating to local government, that he was often called upon for city information even after he was out of office.

After serving acceptably as city clerk Mr. Davis was elected mayor under the commission form of government and served in that capacity for four years. During his administration he and his associates made substantial improvements in the municipal light plant notwithstanding the limited funds at their disposal. Extensions and betterments of the water system were also made and the general record of the administration was excellent.

In his newspaper work Mr. Davis specialized on sports and there were very few people as thoroughly posted. This same thing was true of theatrical affairs and he was familiar with what has been doing among stage folk for the past twenty years.

Mr. Davis while associated with the Opera House management was frequently in the newspaper offices of Jacksonville and then manifested his interest in newspaper work. Subsequently he served on the news staff of the Courier, when the late George E. Doying was the publisher. Following his term of service as mayor of Jacksonville, he joined the staff of the Journal and from then until the time of his illness was engaged in news or telegraphic editorial work.

Mr. Davis had a distinctive style in news writing and also excelled as a paragrapher. In politics he was a staunch Republican and a thorough believer in the principle that any needed reform or changes should come thru the party organization. In politics he knew that one could not always win and so he was counted as a "good loser." The phrase meant in his case that he cherished no enmities and took results as they came, with a certain calmness of spirit that is only acquired thru experience.

Loyalty was another of his most marked characteristics and this fact was in a large measure responsible for the great number of his friends and the general esteem in which he was held.

A generous and kindly spirit contributed to his interest in fraternal orders and he held membership in a number. Mr. Davis was identified with Favorite Lodge No. 376, Knights of Pythias; Delaware Tribe of Red Men; Eagles Lodge No. 569; Urania Lodge No. 243, I. O. O. F.; Carlats Rebekah Lodge No. 625; Minnetonka Council No. 71; Delegates of Pocahontas, Jacksonville Lodge of Elks No. 683.

For years he had been actively identified with the Red Men and attended several state conventions of the order as a delegate. He was instrumental in the passage of several by-laws of the Red Men's organization which were influential in the growth of the order.

Mr. Davis was also a member of the Congregational church.

The marriage to Miss Mary G. Rowen occurred in Hannibal, Mo., March 5, 1914, while he was serving as mayor of Jacksonville. He is survived by Mrs. Davis; one brother, Walter Davis, of National City, Cal.; and two sisters Dorothy and Pearl, now resident in Los Angeles.

As indicated, death came at 4 o'clock Thursday morning. No information has been received as to just when Mrs. Davis will start upon the return journey with the remains. However, it is expected that the funeral will be held either Monday or Tuesday.

Mrs. E. L. Kendall made a shopping trip to the city from Bluff Thursday.

MARGARINE NOT A "SUBSTITUTE" SAY MANUFACTURERS

Is a Fine, Modern Food

Margarine is made and sold in an honest, straightforward fashion in accordance with the best ideals of modern American food production and marketing. It reaches the consumer in a carton that is plainly stamped "oleomargarine," so that the customer knows exactly what she is buying. In fact the high character of margarine as a pure, wholesome food is so pronounced that the producers are proud to be identified with their product.

Conscious of the sound ethical basis upon which the industry is operating, the margarine manufacturer naturally resents the constant allusion to his product as a "substitute," or an "equivalent." The use of the word "butterine" is to be deplored, as it gives the impression that margarine seeks to be sold in place of another and similar product. The food writers are as much to blame in this respect as anybody. Most of their definitions start, "Margarine is a substitute—" and even some dictionaries follow suit.

Margarine today is a prepared spread, but is no more artificial than any other food that is prepared by alternate heating, blending and chilling. The flavor of margarine pleases the taste of a great number of persons. Its ingredients are of known purity and wholesomeness. Modern methods of production are responsible for it being possible to offer margarine to the consumer at a price that is most moderate. It is a combination of value that has proved satisfactory to the taste of thousands of women—hence its wide sale. And it is marketed solely on its own merit.

The immense increase in the use of margarine is witness to its wide popularity and to its merit as a spread and as a shortening. Last year the demand for margarine amounted to 209,000,000 pounds and of the large quantity Jelke GOOD LUCK Margarine, the largest selling brand, and the finest spread for bread, represented a large share. Such a record, made solely on the merit of the product, shows the advantage of doing business with branded merchandise, and is a crying refutation of any desire on the part of the margarine manufacturer to sell his product as a substitute.—Advertisement.

VISITS JAIL, STAYS ALL NIGHT, FINED $5

Youth Calls on Sheriff Wright and Demands to See Friend—President Gets Him Free Lodging and Fine.

Late Wednesday evening a young man who had no intention of seeking a night's lodging called at the county jail. He demanded that Sheriff Wright allow him to see one of his friends who had quarters there. The Sheriff reasoned with his visitor, trying to persuade him to return home. Being as determined as he was drunk, the youth persisted in his demand.

"All right," said the Sheriff, "we'll go find your friend." He then conducted the young man to a cell, ushered him inside and turned the key. Yesterday morning, Sheriff Wright took his caller to the office of Sheriff Opperman, where he pleaded guilty to a charge of drunkenness and paid a fine of $5 and costs.

Yesterday at noon, the county jail housed a record number of boarders. Twenty-eight prisoners dined at the expense of the county, a larger number than has been in jail at any one time since the days when the Greeks from Schuyler county were lodged there for several weeks. The jail is a busy place these days and its population is larger than for several years.

Oliver Moss and Richard Nolan were each fined $10 and costs in Justice Opperman's court yesterday, after they had pleaded guilty to the charge of beating up Harold Gillespie. The incident occurred about 11:30 o'clock Wednesday night on East Court street near the Auto Inn. It appeared that Moss and Nolan, in company with Mark Correll, approaching Gillespie and another lad, who were talking to two girls. One of the three pulled Gillespie's cap over his face, and he squared away. The lad who was with him was chased away by one of the others, and Gillespie was beaten about the head to such an extent that he was confined to his bed yesterday.

Gillespie says he tried to run away from his assailants. It appears that Correll took no part in the fight, and no charges were filed against him.

CASSEROLES

Do you realize and make use of the economy and convenience of your casseroles and baking dishes?

In choosing a casserole be sure that the cover fits tightly and has a large enough knob on top to enable you to get a firm hold without danger of burns.

For everyday use I like the casserole made of a vitrified product with a duckly, clubby handle on one side of the dish and a substantial knob on the cover.

These are light to handle and as easy to wash as glass and much less expensive. They are attractive in their plain, sturdy fashion and add to the hominess of the dinner table.

A reasonable amount of thought should be used in the handling of casseroles. They should not be subjected to too great and sudden changes of temperature. For instance, when removing a casserole from the oven it's hardly advisable to put it in a cold sink to cool. Nor should it be placed directly over gas flame to quickly melt fat or butter.

There is nothing new about casserole cooking, but the variety of foods that can be cooked this way grows all the time with experiment. The old-fashioned bean pot is nothing more nor less than a form of casserole.

The joy of having a vegetable in its sauce of a meat in its gravy all ready to serve means so much at the last minute of "taking up" when preparing a meal that this simple expedient is well worth while.

If you would serve creamed onions with your roast, cook them in a glass casserole that goes straight from the oven to the table.

Onions on Casserole

Sixteen small silver-skinned onions, 2 tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons flour, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1-2 cups milk, 1-8 teaspoon pepper.

Peel onions under cold water. Drop in boiling water and boil 15 minutes. Drain and put in a wellbuttered casserole. Melt butter, stir in flour, slowly add milk, stirring constantly, season with salt and pepper and cook until thick and smooth. Pour

Four cups milk, 1-2 cup rice, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1 cup sugar, 1 tablespoon butter.

Put cold ingredients into a buttered casserole and put into the oven. Stir often while the rice is swelling. When mixture reaches the boiling point reduce the heat and cook slowly for two hours. The pudding should be smooth and creamy when done and should be removed immediately from the oven as too long cooking will make it watery. Serve warm or cold with sugar and cream.

GIANTS

A race of people six feet tall, none taller, none shorter, could be produced by proper medical treatment of the endocrine glands—especially the thyroid gland in the neck. This is one of the odd views expressed at the clinical congress of American College of Surgeons.

It should especially interest the Japanese.

And if the rest of us don't keep an eye open, the efficiency experts may decide to standardize humanity. The job is well started—in the matter of standardizing clothing, food, routine, amusement and thought.

Shows

Nearly 700,000 people a day attend theaters and movies in New York City. An unknown percentage of them is composed of visitors from out of town. But the ratio of theater-goers to population probably is not much larger than the average for the whole country.

We are a pleasure-loving nation. The movie has taken the place of the corner saloon. It glorifies our thinking, makes us forget our troubles, in the hours when otherwise we might be solving and eliminating these troubles. Entertainment is a form of dope.

Sensible, this putting things on a budget basis.

The day will come when society will be similarly organized, each person paying a certain yearly fee, with "free" admission to the theaters and other places of amusement which in a higher civilization probably will be run by the community.

HARDLY A TRACE IS

"The Tanlac treatment soon made a wonderful change in my whole system," recently affirmed Ben Beasley, a well known resident of 903 East Ash St., Taylorville, Ill.

"My appetite had gone back on me and I was in an awful rundown condition. I was eating almost nothing and all my strength and energy seemed to have left me. My sleep was broken and I felt tired and worn out all the time.

"Besides, I had rheumatism so bad it was agony to move head or foot. Sometimes these attacks would last for three weeks and I would be helpless for that period. Tanlac not only brought back my appetite and restored my former strength and energy, but it has rid me of rheumatism so that I hardly ever feel a twinge of it. I can't say enough in praise of Tanlac."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 37 million bottles sold.

SPECTACULAR DAY TO FEATURE SATURDAY GAMES

on Coaches Have Been Working Hard the

CAGO, Nov. 1.—Open

attack as a constant threat
their opponents. Coach Yost ctive.

otre Dame is another eleven

the teams today were round-out their week of practice re the Saturday games. The hard scrimmages are scheed for this afternoon, with orrow's training in each camp oted to signal drills and the ing of plays.

Chicago and Illinois, who play
feature game of the week,
are in good shape for their
y. The Maroons report some ous defections due to injuries

but are heartened by the fact that the freshmen using Illinois pays, are being stopped by the regulars.

Minnesota is reported to have its full team in good condition
for Northwestern. The Gophers showed a passing attack against Wisconsin last Saturday that surprised the Badgers, and expect to win from Northwestern
by their superior offensive.

Michigan expects trouble against Iowa. A victory for the Hawkeyes would upset the championship ambitions of the Wolverines and place the winner of the Illinois-Chicago game in line for the title. From Iowa, however, came reports that injuries were expected to handicap the Hawkeyes.

Wisconsin, which rests this week end, will hover in the back ground as an undefeated eleven to worry Illinois, Michigan and Chicago teams, each whom the Badgers will meet before the season is over.

QUINCY COACH STARTS
CLEAN-UP CAMPAIGN

QUINCY, Ill., Nov. 1.—Dis-

Quincy high school football team

Clarence Crossley, has inaugu-red a clean-up campaign of the local prep team, contender for title honors in the Mississippi Valley high school conference by dismissing one man from the squad and warning several others
that unless something is done
within the next week, they, too, will be requested to hand in their equipment.

The man dismissed is one of the leading players on the team,
and mentioned as one of the all-conference linemen.

SUPREMACY STILL IN DOUBT

ZEV

is Zev the greatest three-year-old
in the country?

The easy manner in which the Sinclair colt disposed of the much-touted English horse, Papyrus, entitles him to the spotlight for a time at least.

Prior to the race with Papyrus a great many turf experts were of the opinion that Admiral Gary T.
Grayson's My Own should have been selected in preference to Zev. Only the convincing manner in which Zev won the big international race kept the Jockey Club officials from coming in for much censure.

Turf experts rate Zev and My Own as the class of the three-year old. There is one racehorse owner who disputes such an opinion. The individual is Carl

IN MEMORIAM

Weidemann of Newport, Ky., who owns in Memoriam, a son of McGee, and a near relative of the great Exterminator.

Weidemann believes his colt,
In Memoriam, is the fastest trick
in the world. Recently in Memoriam worked a mile in better than 1 minute and 39 seconds with 149 pounds up, a remarkable feat. The Kentucky owner of Memoriam is willing to wager plenty in real dough that his colt can beat either My Own or Zev.

These three great horses are scheduled to start in the Latonia Championship, a $40,000 race to be run at Latonia, Nov. 3, at one and three-quarters of a mile. If all three horses should start, this race would loom up as the big turf event of the year.

and when the last faint murmur
of the conversational tumult had died the three shots mentioned above led the field.

You will note that none of the three is related or similar in character. The long brassie is a powerful shot, a full swing in which distance runs a dead heat with direction. The short pitch is a forearm and wrist maneuver, involving an entirely different technique. The approach putt is simply a putt that demands a "hit"
rather than a "tap."

Which of these would you name
as the hardest to play?

Max Marston, new amateur champion says the approach putt
is the hardest.

Approach Putt Hardest?

"It is no easy matter to roll a 60-foot putt up dead to the hole,
and do it consistently," says Marston. "I think it is the most delicate of all strokes in golf, for there must be perfect control, perfect timing, and perfect judgment of distance. Otherwise the ball will not get up to the hole, or hold the line. Under any circumstances the long approach putt is beset with unusual difficulties and where the green dips and swells it is positively terrifying."

Bill Fownes, veteran Pitts-burgher, and former national champion, did not agree with Marston. Fownes voted the short pitch the hardest shot in golf.

"This type of shot is more difficult than the longer iron approach, or any other shot, I think,
because it calls for great delicacy in stroking, a keen touch and flawless control. It is, in fact, the approach putt carried out to a higher dimension. If you get perfect results you may be in position to get down in one putt.
If you don't you may need three."

national amateur was decided this year, the matter of the "hardest

LONG ROLL-UP PUTT TO HAVE HARD TIME

BY JOE WILLIAMS

What is the hardest shot in golf?

To many this is equivalent to asking what is the most delightful poison known to chemistry.

Your average golfer finds that a shot is either hard or harder.

Play with the irons is popularly supposed to involve fewer complexities than play with the woods.
The swing in most instances is shorter and, therefore, easier to control.

Players who drive off the tee
from Chicago and St. Louis, which will bring the most traffic,
are paved the entire distance.

From Chicago automobiles may go to Danville on Route 1, and from there to Urbana on Route 10. From St. Louis they may travel to Springfield over Route 4, and then take Route 10 which goes through Decatur to Urbana.

Route 25 south from Champaign has been paved from Mattoon to Tuscola. A good old road leads from Tuscola into Champaign. Route 25 is paved from Kaukauna south to Del Ray.

At Del Ray there is a 14
mile detour to Lodi. The paved road is open from Lodi to Paxton.
There is another six mile detour from Paxton to Ludlow.

The pavement is open from Ludlow to 60 feet from the cup, that must be left dead to the hole.

HIGHWAY HAZARDS
GREATLY REDUCED

War on Grade Crossings Has Eliminated Hard Road Dangers
By One Half.

SPRINGFIELD—(By the A. P.) War on grade crossings conducted by the highway department in building the state hard road system, has resulted in the elimination of almost half such hazards on state roads throughout Illinois, according to the announcement today by Frank T. Sheets, superintendent of highways.

There will be approximately 400 grade crossings on the system according to plans as at present drawn, Mr. Sheets said. Other crossings to the number of 325 have been cut out either by relocating the roads or spreading the grades. The crossings eliminated by relocating the roads numbered approximately 185, while 140 were dispensed with through separation of grades.

The highway division has built 90 crossing cases while the Illinois Commerce Commission, of which 50 have already been settled. These 50 terminated as follows: Subways 14; overheads 8; new grade crossings 28.

The Grade Crossings.

The proportion of grade crossings to automobiles throughout the state including those not on the hard road system, is approximately 62 to every motor vehicle and there is one extra-hazardous crossing for approximately every 212 motor vehicles, figures supplied by the highway department indicate.

Of 16,000 grade crossings in the state 7,000 are within corporate limits of cities and villages, and 9,000 outside of corporate limits. Forty-seven hundred crossings, located outside of corporate limits, are considered as extra hazardous.

If the total number of grade crossings and grade separations on the state bond issue system, said Mr. Sheets, "does not exceed 600 we may draw the conclusion that 90 per cent of the traffic in Illinois will use about 5 1/2 per cent of the total number of crossings outside of corporate limits, which conclusion illustrates the importance of separations and protection of crossings on the bond issue roads."

Grade crossings on the state bond issue system which are considered as extra hazardous are protected by warning signs, signal bells, gates or watchmen.

On state bond issue pavements large warning signs are placed about 500 feet each side of the crossing and the practice is now being followed of painting black and white bars on the pavement so that the driver's attention is called to the grade crossing which he is approaching.

The roads are so designed that there will be a level grade for a distance of 50 feet on each side of the railroad crossing and with approach grades not to exceed three per cent if possible. The railroad companies are compelled to place the crossing between the rails and to maintain the top of rail at the same elevation as the elevation of the pavement, so that a smooth crossing will be provided. All obstacles tending to obstruct views at grade crossings are removed insofar as possible.

For grade crossings outside of the bond issue system and on ordinary country roads, the Illinois Commerce Commission, has definite rules governing the maintenance of crossings and the construction of new crossings. They provide for a definite width of railroads varying from 18 to 30 feet, for full planked crossings, level grades for a distance of from 25 to 50 feet on each side of the tracks and proper approach grades. The rules also provide for warning signs and crossing bells, if they are necessary.
